MEDICINAL.

HOW HEALTH IS GAINED

The story of a great deal of the unhappiness of women is the story of lost health. Women wonder how it is that little by little the form loses plumpness, the cheeks grow hollow, and they feel tired and worn-out all the time. In a large proportion of cases when women are weak, run-down and falling off in flesh and looks, the root of the trouble can be traced to womanly diseases which undermine the general health. The proof of this is that women who have been cured of painful womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have recovered their general health, gained in flesh and in appearance.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which sap the general health. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I suffered for three years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. Anna Quinn (Treasurer Woman's Athletic Club), of 505 Sycamore St., Milwaukee, Wis. "The treatment I took did not do me a particle of good, until a good neighbor who had been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advised me to give it a trial. The next day took my first dose, and it was my first step toward recovery. In nine weeks I was a different woman; my flesh which had been away became firm, complexion clear and my eyes bright. It was simply an indication of the great change within from pain and suffering to health and happiness."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Efforts to Suppress Riots.

Reports received by the ministry of the interior in St. Petersburg indicate that the precautionary measure taken to prevent anti-Jewish disturbances during Easter week, when the ignorant are easily aroused to a sort of religious frenzy against the Jews by the dissemination of false stories regarding "blood atonement," will result in the avoidance of serious trouble. In spite of the precautions, however, it is considered possible there may be attempts at rioting, but the authorities may be relied upon to suppress these with a strong hand. The following private telegram was received yesterday from Odessa: "Reports of anti-Jewish disturbances, which always are common at Easter time, cause more alarm than usual this year, because of the occurrences last year. The Jews here are nervous, but the authorities have confidence in Governor Eidhardt, who is in charge of the city and who is an energetic and humane man, and as well as in Baron Kaulbars, commander-in-chief of the troops in southern Russia. Under the circumstances, therefore, anything like a serious disturbance is regarded as impossible. The official newspapers have published strongly worded warnings and the city is placarded with notices that all who disturb the peace will be severely punished."

Suicide on the Stage.

Emil Hasda, the leading comedian in a company playing Fuld's "Twin Sisters" at the Municipal Theatre at Nimptsch, Silesia, on Saturday evening committed suicide in full view of the audience. The company was on tour from Berlin, under the management of Herr Rudolph Mohr, and was making a great success. Of all the players Hasda was the public favorite. All through the first act the interpretation he gave of the extremely funny part he played had kept the audience in roars of laughter, and a storm of applause caused the curtain to be raised several times at its close. When it rose for the sixth time Hasda, who had been bowing his acknowledgments in the usual way, suddenly drew a revolver from his pocket and blew out his brains in full view of the spectators. Hasda fell dead in front of the footlights, and the other actors and actresses on the stage fled panic-stricken. The curtain came down with a crash, hiding the blood-stained stage from the public gaze, and the performance immediately came to an end. It is stated that Hasda committed suicide because one of the actresses of the company rejected his suit.

A French Swindler's Trick.

A bank messenger named Pierre Moineaux, employed by the Credit Industriel Bank, in Paris was robbed of £14,000 in cash and securities by an ingenious trick Saturday as he was returning to the bank from his round in the suburbs. Healighted at St. Lazare station, and as he passed the ticket-collector was accosted by a man who was also dressed in the uniform of a messenger of the Credit Industriel Bank. "You have just come from the branch at Courbevoie?" said the man, and, on Moineaux assenting, the pretended messenger continued: "Well, I have been sent because the manager of the branch has telephoned to the head office that you are to return to the branch immediately. You are to hand me your accounts and satchel for the chief cashier, so as not to keep the staff waiting." Though he did not know the man, Moineaux handed over his satchel, being taken in by the man's uniform. He then hastened back to Courbevoie, only to find that he had been the victim of a clever swindle. The police have not yet discovered the thief, but they found the satchel yesterday afternoon, with a roll of foreign notes, in a public lavatory.

Nun's Vows to Be Temporary.

The Pope has decided that greater care must be taken before admitting the members of the religious orders of the Church, males and females, to the profession of solemn vows. This reform is due to the many petitions that have reached Rome from all parts of the world asking for dispensation from solemn vows taken without due reflection and soon repented of. A decree is to be issued that nuns shall be admitted to their profession only after a period of probation lasting several years, and that, after their novitiate is ended, they shall be bound only by simple vows, which can easily be dispensed by every bishop in order that, should circumstances render necessary their return to the world they may not find themselves bound by their vows for life. The same will be ordered in the case of male religious, who will not be allowed to take the solemn vows except when promoted to the priesthood. The simple vows allowed by the Papal decree are not to be perpetual but binding only for a shorter or longer period of years.

A Great Satisfaction.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown, of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Trial bottle free.

Suicide.

Oswald J. Miller, of Hoboken, committed suicide last night in the home of Edward Johnson, an ice dealer, in Jersey City. Miller killed himself after an interview with Johnson's daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who recently got a divorce from her husband, Frank B. Niblett, of Jersey City. Miller wanted to marry Miss Johnson, who took her maiden name after her divorce, and she was willing to marry him, but the minister who they asked to perform the ceremony refused because the bride-to-be was a divorced woman. Miller was 27 years old. He was an inspector for a Brooklyn elevator company. Miss Johnson is 30 years old. She got a divorce from her husband for desertion. She and Miller had been greatly attached to each other, and it was said Saturday night that soon after the divorce they decided to get married. Miller, who lived in Jersey City until a short time ago, called on Rev. William H. Ruth, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, in Jersey City, last Wednesday night. Miller attended this church when he was in Jersey City, and was a friend to the pastor. Miller told Mr. Ruth that he wanted to marry Miss Johnson next Wednesday. The minister knew about the divorce of Miss Johnson, who is a member of his church. The minister refused to perform the ceremony until he had consulted other members of the church. The presiding elder was sought, and he decided against the contemplated marriage.

The Best Family Salve.
